Summer Semester in Paris
With College of the Canyons

June 30-July 31, 2018

Cost: $3500 Includes: Tuition at the University of Paris-Sorbonne; housing for the duration of the program; use of the Paris facilities and services of the Accent International Consortium for Academic Programs Abroad; a one-month subway and bus pass; a one-day excursion to the Palace of Versailles; pre-departure and overseas orientation program; International Student Identity Card; a pass for most Paris museums; transfers from and to Paris airport for group flight participants.

The program price does not include: Round-trip airfare (an optional group flight will be offered), College of the Canyons tuition for French 150, meals, insurance, personal expenses.

For a supplement of $320 (A steal!), students can choose to go on an optional three day-trip to Normandy and Brittany with two overnights in the fabulous town of Saint-Malo, including transportation, accommodations, breakfast and guided visits

Courses: French Conversation/Introduction to Paris (French 150); one section for beginners and one for more advanced students. Required of all trip participants. Taught by Professor Pierre Etienne, Director French Program, College of the Canyons.

This program is limited to 30 participants and is open to anyone who will be at least eighteen years of age by the U.S. departure date of June 29, 2018. Informational meetings for all those interested will be held on 10/12, 11/09 and 12/07, 2017 from 6:00 until 7:30 pm in TLC-160 (The Learning Center) on the Valencia Campus.

For more information and program brochure and application, please contact: Pierre Etienne: pierre.etienne@canyons.edu (661) 362-306