Ms. Coleal provided the highlights of this new funding, and an informational memo was distributed to the Board from the ACCCA Governor’s Board Workshop.
✓ Language for any new bills that we wish to pursue for community colleges needs to be drafted by February 16, so Executive Cabinet is reviewing last year’s bills to see if any could be re-drafted for presentation to our legislators.

Ms. Fiero announced that:
✓ This Saturday is the statewide Job Fair in Los Angeles, and the HR representatives will be present to promote our open positions from COC.
✓ Human Resources at COC will be launching our online application process soon.

She provided an update of the bookstore’s accomplishments, including that the December buy-back resulted in $100,000 more than the previous year. Barnes & Noble has worked to make their website user-friendly for our students to acquire their books online and have them shipped to them directly (even out of the USA for our international students). ✓ The Board of Governors, in accordance with the Governor's proposed bond measure on the 2008 ballot, plan to move several of our projects up for approval, which could result in funding for our Library expansion, the first building at the Canyon Country Educational Center, and the A&R/Administration buildings.
✓ The Amgen Bicycle Tour of California is coming to Valencia, and will be riding 3 laps of the race around our area. COC will serve as a parking location for the event. We have also purchased a booth in the vendor area. The tour is expecting 100,000 people, so our involvement presents great opportunities for exposure in the media and with those in attendance. The City of Santa Clarita needs 600 volunteers, including race monitors and general assistance during this event.
✓ She will be meeting with Mike Murphy for breakfast on Thursday to discuss possible partnerships with the City (Canyon Country campus, the arts, economic development).
✓ The Department of Education was encouraged by Congressman McKeon to contact us about hosting a Textbook Summit on Monday, March 5 in the PAC from 9:00 am to 3:00pm.
