Job Seekers Flock to Canyon Country Campus

Growing Number of Students Attend Canyon Country Campus

In its nearly four years of existence, the College of the Canyon Campus Center has consistently provided access to a variety of educational and job training opportunities — and students have taken advantage of a great many of them.

This June the college will award degrees and/or certificates to roughly 1,175 students during its annual commencement ceremony.

While some students may have completed all or some of their educations at the Valencia campus, or through online courses or classes taken at another institution, more than 800 students — roughly 69 percent — took at least one class at the college’s Canyon Country campus at some point during their educational journey.

In the class of this year’s graduates, the Canyon Country campus housed an informal breakfast celebration in late May honoring our class of 2011 for some of the somber to be graduated on their way to other.

“The Canyon College campus has been a necessity to many for helping students achieve their educational goals,” said Dr. Dana Maloney, Vice President of the Campus, Canyon Country Campus and ECONOMICS.

“With a greater percentage of our graduates now enrolling in courses at Valencia and Canyon Country, the campus continues to be a key component to helping students realize their dreams.”

College of the Canyon offers 28 associate degree and certificate programs that can be completed entirely through a combination of classes taken at the Canyon Country campus and online.

By tapping into the courses and services offered at the Canyon Country campus, students and staff members have been able to receive all the same high-quality support and educational opportunities that Valencia campus students receive.

However, many have also discovered value in the hidden benefits of taking classes at Canyon Country campus, including the closer proximity and academic setting that are so appealing to them.

“We didn’t have our close friends in the dorm, and we didn’t have our close friends in the dorm, but we did have them in the same dorms, and we did have them in the same dorms, but we didn’t have their dorm.”

“Tara’s first thought about the Canyon Country campus was that she was going to be in a different location, but I was happy. She was happy. She was happy, I was happy.”

And so, if the small classes, individualized instruction, and close proximity suited enough to be appealing, Tara has also found learning in itself to be enjoyable.

The island College of the Canyon Tensleep campus will open in 2012, and the campus located in the island (Canyon Country campus is located in the Valencia campus.

The 37th annual Mountain Anselch, sponsored by the Mountain Area Chamber of Commerce, will be held on the campus site during the month of June and will feature music, food, and a variety of activities.

The Canyon Country Campus is Making a Difference!

Many thanks to the generous support of CCC students and community members. Since March 2008, CCC blood drives with the American Red Cross have collected 301 pints of blood, which is the equivalent of 37.6 gallons. This lifesaving contribution has made a difference for 902 patients!

Stay tuned for additional visits by blood mobiles on our events page. Keep up the great work.
