Welcome to COMS 105, the Online Hybrid version of Public Speaking. I am Adam Kaminsky, the instructor for this course and I look forward to meeting you at the first class on Thursday, June 19th at 5:15 P.M. I would like to go over some important information that will contribute to your overall success in the class, and also help you prepare for some of the challenges presented by an online course. Failure to attend the first day of the class will result in an automatic drop, regardless of circumstances.

Course Information:
Your attendance at the first class meeting and all of other Thursday meetings is mandatory to successfully pass the course. Vacation plans or work commitments will prevent you from being allowed to remain in the course, so please make sure your calendar is cleared. Your participation grade and your ability to be successful would be impacted greatly if any portion of a class is missed.

At the first class meeting I will provide you with a complete syllabus which will explain the course and its requirements. We will also begin discussion, lecture, and fine tuning our public speaking skills that day.

The dates for all classes are: June 19th, June 26th, July 3rd, July 10th, July 17th, July 24th. This class meets only 6 times, therefore you may NOT miss class, arrive late, or leave early. Basically, the first and second meetings will be a “crash course” in communication and public speaking, focusing on organization, supporting material, delivery, and visual aids. Speeches will be presented at the subsequent class meetings. You will have 2 exams and the format of these will be discussed at our first class session.

The Uniqueness of Online Learning:

Though an online class has greater flexibility when it comes to how you allocate your time, this class will require the same time commitment that any traditional class would. In fact, the online class poses challenges that may require more of your time if you are not experienced with the online setting. You will be required to read the textbook and write speech presentations in a very short period of time. You will need to be self-disciplined and able to work independently in order to maximize your success in this class. Therefore, your complete commitment is necessary in order to be successful.

I look forward to seeing you on June 19th. If you have questions regarding our Distance Learning program, you may call the Distance Learning Department at (661) 362-3600 or visit the distance learning website at College of the canyons. I can be reached at Kaminsky.adam@gmail.com. Please give me 24 hours to respond before sending me a confirmation (reminder) email. The summer session is a fast paced “adrenaline shot” of public speaking that will empower you and help you to conquer any anxiety you may have.

Respectfully,

Adam Kaminsky
