Dear Online Communication Studies 105 student,

Welcome to fundamentals of Public Speaking online. I am your instructor and I look forward to meeting you at the mandatory Orientation meeting on Wednesday evening, January 7th at 5:00 pm on the Valencia Campus, Hasley Hall, Room 206. At the orientation I will review the syllabus and explain the requirements for this class. I will also discuss ways to help you succeed in this class and explain how to navigate the Thinkwell Website. Included in this session will be the first two topics of discussion: Outlining and Introductions/Conclusions. I will be explaining the various organizational designs and the correct outline format required for all your speech outlines. Outlines are required with each speech and count toward your final grade. Also be thinking of an interesting personal experience that you will share with the class.

The orientation will last the entire duration of the class, from 5:00 pm until 9:45 pm (including breaks), and attendance for this session – as well as all other Thursday evening sessions – is mandatory. You will receive a syllabus listing all assignments at the orientation. The dates for the remaining meetings are: January 14th, 21st, 28th, and February 4th. All class sessions meet Wednesday evenings from 5:00 pm to 9:30 pm.

Your textbook for this class is entitled: Public Speaking Handbook, by Stephen A. Beebe and Susan J. Beebe (see details below). You may purchase the online text and access to Mypearsonlab.com through the link on Blackboard. This material includes the video lectures, required quizzes, audio, graphics, links to speeches, and animation. Completion of the online quizzes is required and figured into your final grade with 180 points out of 1000 points. This site will also be used to navigate the entire online process. We may be using Blackboard as our discussion board site. You will be required to have 12 posts and 12 responses at 5 points each for a total of 120 points.
