What are Online Classes?

You will have no on-campus meetings. Your instructor may require testing to be completed at an institution such as a community college near your home. This information should be included in the instructor's orientation letter. Please contact your instructor to verify testing requirements.

What are Hybrid Classes?

These online courses have at least one on-campus meeting date, usually on the first day of class. Some classes meet three or four times during the course of the semester. Please read the scheduling information carefully to find out when and where your class will meet.
