

PROGRAM OF STUDY

Hotel & Restaurant Management Associate in Science

The Associate of Science degree designation in Hotel and Restaurant Management provides a broad based fundamental approach to the managerial functions in both the hotel and restaurant industry. The combined designation adds accounting requirements to either the restaurant or the hotel management program offerings

Student Learning Outcome:

Demonstrate proficiency in the core skills and knowledge required for employment in hotel and restaurant management.

Program Requirements:

		Units
HRMGT 101	Introduction to the Hospitality Industry	3 - 0
HRMGT 210	Hotel and Restaurant Law	3 - 0
HRMGT 225	Food Service Sanitation and Safety	3 - 0
HRMGT 245	Hotel Restaurant Supervision and Guest Relations	3 - 0
HRMGT 275	Hospitality Industry Accounting	3 - 0

Plus three units from the following:

		Units
HRMGT 220	Restaurant Operations	3 - 0
HRMGT 235	Hotel and Restaurant Sales & Marketing	3 - 0

Total Units

18

PID 74