NOTE about Major Course Substitutions for Paralegal courses taken at other colleges:

College of the Canyons does not accept legal specialty courses from a school that is not ABA approved or accredited by a College of the Canyons approved accrediting body. College of the Canyons limits the transfer of legal specialty units (i.e. Paralegal courses) to 12.0 semester units from an ABA approved program. College of the Canyons allows 9.0 semester units of legal specialty units (i.e. paralegal courses) from a non-ABA approved program. ALL additional units should transfer for elective credit, but the limits stated above are for substitution of paralegal courses. Therefore, it is likely that if you have taken many courses at another institution, you will be limited on the number of courses that transfer and substitute for paralegal courses.

In addition, the courses transferring will be examined for rigor, subject matter, delivery modality (lecture, hybrid, etc.), topics covered, assignments and/or projects. Merely having the same course name is insufficient. Potential students are encouraged to meet with the Paralegal Studies Department Chair prior to attending so that transfer credits can be discussed and course planning can occur. <http://www.canyons.edu/Departments/PARLGL/Pages/contact.aspx>
