- 1.3 Open Forum- Melinda Ursetta, from Campus Life & Student Engagement and ASG, is here to talk about Free Speech and Vendors on campus. Vendors are not allowed to follow students into classrooms as well as not asking them personal questions. More vendors are on campus with the elections coming up. Melinda is the staff member to bring concerns to. There is a space designated on campus for free speech. Please let club members know that voter registration/ vendors are not allowed to follow students or persuade them to vote in a certain way. You may call Campus Safety if the vendors are not following the rules set forth by the college. Vendors must register to be on campus, but Petitioners are not required to first register. If the group is not at a designated table, most times they have not submitted the paperwork to be on campus. Vendors are required to first register before coming to campus. Jehovah Witness is here weekly but tends to not impede students. The meditation book people had a report filed of touching a student and taking personal items from students. Many reports caused this specific group to not be allowed back on campus until next year. Stay away from these groups as they are just trying to take student's money. In order to stop this, reports must first be filed. Please let her know of anything weird.
